Dress warmly! Sheets and blankets should be available. We will be staying in heated buildings, but to be safe take your own sleeping bag if you desire.

Chow will be contracted from the Hoosier Kitchen Saturday morning. The Saturday morning meal will be served at the Camp Atterbury airfield from marmite cans. A bus will transport personnel to the Hoosier Kitchen Saturday evening and Sunday morning. The Saturday noon meal and the Sunday noon meal will be C rations. Every person scheduled to go to Camp Atterbury will draw his two C-rations from AASF #2 flight operations prior to departing OSU.

All support personnel will be transported in unit aircraft. Pilots available for early departures on Friday will have to wait until their aircraft have sufficient passengers. Operations will assign tail numbers and advise. Other aircraft will leave as soon as possible following formation at 1900 hrs Friday. Volunteers who can leave early Friday morning should call flight operations at AASF #2. (889-7127)

All personnel will remain at Camp Atterbury both Friday and Saturday nights. All personnel should take the following equipment:

- a. Rain gear
- b. Hearing protection
- c. Canteen and belt (optional)
- d. A few snacks and some change.

REMEMBER - You are responsible for your equipment! Don't trust your buddy!

All flight crews not involved in range firing will participate in the Attack Helicopter tactics scenario which we briefed on last drill. We will brief on this again Saturday morning in addition to the range briefing, safety briefing, and "HOT" refueling briefing. Do not forget your maps.

All personnel will return to OSU approximately 1200 hrs Sunday. The following personnel are assigned to drive trucks back to OSU from Camp Atterbury Sunday morning:

5000 gal JP-4 tanker Bombich/Smith K.R.

M-880 (Armament) Richards/Taylor D.
Bus Hardesty/T.B.A.

An aircraft will depart for OSU at 0800 hrs Sunday with 5 additional drivers for the other vehicles. Volunteers should contact SFC Olson Friday night.

"SAFETY"

Helicopter, weapons, live ammunition, noise, and excitement can contribute to a potentially hazardous situation. DO NOT LET IT HAPPEN. Take your time. If you are not sure you know what you are doing, STOP. Find someone who knows the job to help you. If you see an unsafe act or an unsafe situation developing, call for a "CEASEFIRE" and let's get it corrected.

OFFICER ASSOCIATION DUES

All officers should bring two blank checks to drill for payment of the 1982 National Guard Association Associations of the U.S. and Ohio. The amount for the 1982 dues will be announced at drill. Project Officer for the dues is CW2 Weyhrich.

Personnel Remaining at OSU

In addition to normal ARTEP/SQT training the following events are scheduled:

A. "Garage Sale" will be conducted on the Beightler Armory drill floor. This will prevent it's use again this month.

Testing and licensing of convoy drivers as necessary.

FIRST SERGEANT SPEAKS

1ST Sergeant, Platoon Sergeant Section Leader (Enlisted) meeting 1800 hrs Friday 24 Apr 81 at the flight facility in the T.I. library.

On Sunday afternoon, during the March drill, I was informed by SSG Kenneth Smith that the fuel section (POL) was the blood line to the unit and he was the aorta. I didn't really believe this, so I checked with SSG Rick Hall, and he informed me that this wasn't true. He said operations was the bloodline to the unit and he was the aorta. At his side he had CPT West and CPT Ashton, who served as the left and right ventricles, respectively.

At this point being in total confusion and feeling some what neglected, because no one had mentioned the 1ST Sergeant, I decided to seek a third opinion- I found SSG Roger Olson resting in the mens latrine. He readily informed me that these two guys were full of bunk; that aviation maintenance was not only the bloodline to the unit, but also the eyes, ears, voice, and legs, and that not only was he the aorta, but he Roger "G" Olson (and the G does not stand for gentle) was the Heart. If anyone in the unit didn't believe him, then they could see him and he would physically convince them. I didn't argue. In fact, I immediately agreed and found myself an exit.

Of course the above is not true, only the figment of some fool's imagination. The unit's mission is some what similar to the human body. Regardless of the size, every vein within the human body is very important.

If you cut one small vein within the human body and that vein is not immediately attended to; then the body will die.

If the seemingly unimportant task in the unit such as, motor stable, K.P. record checks, etc., is not completed and completed properly, then the unit will not function properly.

I am aware that the unimportant tasks you are required to do from time to time might not be listed under your specific MOS, but without these tasks your MOS might not exist. So remember as we go through April drill, Range Firing at Atterbury, May's drill, the I.G. Inspection and June's drill, Annual Training, that small unimportant task you are asked to do is not a dirty detail, but a detail which is necessary to complete the section and unit mission. The records check prior to the I.G. inspection is not something we dream up to keep you from working in your MOS, but a requirement, required by the people who pay the bills for your MOS. (The United States Government).

I know that sometimes these tasks seem like a large problem, but as our forefather have proven to us, these tasks are often time monumental, but not insurmountable.

One of our forefathers, SGM Hagerman based his success on the following; he said, "If his mind could conceive it, and his heart could believe it, then he knew he could achieve it."

Test Question: Who is the aorta?

Answer: Everyone

1ST George McKay

Aircraft maintenance will fire this drill!

NOTE: A hand receipt can be used as evidence in a report of survey investigation. So remember if you turn any equipment in that has been hand receipted make sure you complete all paper work. You do not want any friends in the supply room. We forget just paperwork.

Are you looking for a job? Not happy with your present position in the unit! Then talk to your first line supervisor. Use the chain of command. Oh! you say you don't know who your first line supervisor is, what chain of command. What are your responsibilities in the unit? If you have a problem with this take it to the 1ST Sergeant not to your buddies. Take your problems to someone who cares about you and the unit, any way George needs the twenty cents.

May drill for Medical section field gear plan to bring it in.

PLAN NOW: MAY DRILL TO ALL ENLISTED MALE PERSONNEL TURN IN THE FOLLOWING ITEMS:

KHAKI SHIRTS
KHAKI TROUSERS
POLY SHIRT

Those individuals who are not going to the field will report to the supply room for field gear shake down.

If you are not going to the field this month report to the supply room with field gear.

Duties and Responsibilities

A duty is something you must do because of the position you hold.

Responsibility is being accountable for what you do. NCO's are also responsible-accountable for what their units do or fail to do. NCO's are therefore responsible to fulfill not only their individual duties, but also to see that their team and their unit do their mission well.

NCO responsibility # 10:

- a. Inspect your soldiers' equipment often
- b. Inspect your team, crew, or unit's vehicles and equipment often.
- c. Learn how to use and maintain the equipment.
- d. Enforce maintenance and supply system procedures.
- e. Keep up-to-date component lists and set aside time for inventories.
- f. Provide equipment status reports.
- g. Make proper use of supply channel.
- h. Insure equipment is properly secured and stored.

THE NCO GETS THE JOB DONE.

The orderly room and supply room will be closed Friday 17 Apr 1981. Also the supply room will be open on the following nights:

Monday 13 Apr until 2100
Tuesday 14 Apr until 2100
Monday 20 Apr until 2100
Wednesday 22 Apr until 2100
Monday 27 Apr until 2100
Wednesday 29 Apr until 2100

SOLDIER OF THE MONTH

SP4 Edward J. Mercker enlisted in the Air Force and served 4 yrs as a Missile Systems Analyst Spec. SP4 Mercker joined the National Guard in March 1978. He has worked in our armament section and is now in the orderly room. SP4 Mercker is assigned various duties in the orderly room. Every task assigned he performs in an outstanding manner and needs very little guidance. Ed is currently a senior at OSU, majoring in Computer and Information Science also accounting. He will graduate in September this year. SP4 is married and soon to be a father. Ed has been playing Semi-pro football the last 3 years with the Springfield Sun Devils and he also enjoys jogging. CONGRATULATIONS SP4 Mercker and thanks for all the hard work and willingness to learn and accept responsibilities.

The following named officers are due annual records review, they should see SSG Rummel at the facility Friday:

BUNK ROOM

The bunk room will not be available this drill. So plan ahead and make other arrangements. Also, bunk room rates have changed, it will be $5.00 a night now! If you make a reservation and do not show, your money will not be refunded.

ANNUAL TRAINING

Alright all you athlete's, there will be several sport events scheduled at A.T. this year. The following events will be held: Softball (Team Event), Volleyball (Team Event), Bowling (Team Event) 5 members per team, Golf & Tennis (Individual Event), Horseshoes (Doubles Event), Four Mile Run (Individual Event). Some events may be scheduled at the same time (i.e. Volleyball & Softball). If you are interested see CW3 Baylin at drill Apr & May or let the Orderly room know. Trophies will be awarded for individual and team events. So, come on ATK Trp let's show our esprit-de-corps!

ADVANCE PARTY FOR A.T.

We need volunteers for the advance party. If you are interested please contact the 1ST Sergeant this drill or the orderly room. Advance party is scheduled to depart on 10 June, but is subject to change.

A WORD FROM THE ORDERLY ROOM

Much to the disbelief of some of the unit's personnel, the orderly room's only function on drill weekends is to render service to the unit members. This in itself is a two-fold statement. Each month a list of personnel is posted in the newsletter that are required to review their records for the annual review or are needed to update pertinent information, but each month for one reason or another some of the people don't show. If you can not make the scheduled date and time, let your first line supervisor or platoon sergeant know so he in turn can contact us so we can work you in if there is a conflict with other training or flights. Like I said we are here to serve you. It has been my observation on past drills that a lot of people mistake the orderly room for the break area located at the facility; due to the inordinate amount of work that has to be accomplished in the short period of time during drill and limited space available please don't come to the orderly room just to have some place to be. I'm sure some will be offended by the last statement, but I'm sure the people that aren't offenders will understand we just want to do our jobs and handle your problems.

SSG Rummel

Performance is created by Motivation, Incentive, and Pride.
When you cease to have any one of these you cease to perform.

MAINTENANCE

There have been some important changes in TM 55-1500-204-25/1 - The General Aircraft Maintenance Manual concerning the marking and inspection of restraint equipment and damage limits of aircraft cables. Everyone should review these changes as soon as possible.

Shoulder harness and seat belts are no longer calendar replacement items, therefore they should have a thorough inspection when the aircraft is dailied. The restraint equipment should be marked with the installation date in indelable ink (not black paint), with a minimum height of one inch letters.

For complete instructions on the daily inspection, replacement, replacement and marking of restraint equipment you should read Para. 3-305 through 3-314 in TM 55-1500-204-25/1.

The requirement on the UH-1 to purge the tail rotor grips after the aircraft has been flown in the rain is now in both the C and M, and D and H manuals.

There seems to be some problem areas on the 2408-13's, in block 9 "next inspection due" when a special inspection or phase is completed, be sure to line through the inspection time and add the new time above the lined out time.

Oil sample Forms: There has been a couple of changes on the oil sample forms, the first is that the individual taking the oil sample will print his name in the remarks section of the form. The other change is a address which is "AOPA-LAB P.O. Box J Ft Knox, KY 41021.

Aircraft Structural Panels

In the UH-1 H and M model manuals it states that the aircraft will not be jacked, towed, ground run or flown with panels and access doors removed, these panels and access doors are shown in Chapter 2, Airframe section in both manuals. In checking with TSARCOM in St. Louis, they say, if all the panels are removed, as during a phase, the panels must be installed before you move or jack the aircraft. So plan your work so the panels are reinstalled before jacking or moving the aircraft.

SPRING FEVER:

It's that time of the year when the local bird population tries to build nests in every corner of the aircraft so be on the look out for signs of bird nests around the aircraft.

We've gotten a lot of flack about ID cards. However, when we do have the camera not very many people show up. So were going to try it again this week-end. The camera will be set up from 1900 Friday until 1630 Sunday, or until everyone has had his picture taken, if there is a long line Sunday afternoon. If your name appears below see SP4 Mercker weather you have an ID Card or not. If your name does not appear below and you do not have an ID Card see me also. If maintenance will come in on Saturday there will be less congestion because of Atterbury.
